

Dr. Thomas Goossens, Chief Financial Officer – Dorling Kindersley Verlag

Dr. Thomas Goossens studied economy in Nashville, TN, and in Hamburg and Regensburg in Germany. He was an assistant professor at Hamburg University and participated in a trainee programme at the Bayerische Landesbank, after which he worked for three years in international aviation cooperations in the commercial project management department of MTU, Munich. While working he also pursued a degree in political science. In 1991 he became Chief of Controlling and Data Processing at the Droemerschens Verlagsanstalt, Kindler Verlag, having written his doctoral thesis on corporate planning/budgeting. Until 2001 he served as authorized representative for the publishing group Droemer Weltbild, and since 2002 he has been Chief Financial Officer of Dorling Kindersley Verlags GmbH, Munich.