

Thomas Glueckstein – Lawyer

Thomas Glueckstein studied law in Munich, Germany, and Amiens, France. He was a stipendiary at the Max-Planck-Institut for intellectual property, competition and tax law in Munich. He did an apprenticeship as business mediator and worked for international law firms in London and in Munich at the law firm Lausen Lawyers, mainly in the fields of press and publishing law as well as online law and new media.